Extract from "Report of the Annual General Meeting of the Feilding Golf Club held on 3rd March 1925 – First Honorary Life Member.

The honour of the first honorary life membership of the Club was conferred on Mr D. Pryde in recognition of his long connection with the Club, his position in golfing circles as an ex-New Zealand champion and as one of the fathers of golf in the Dominion. His ability in matters of the game was eulogised by Mr Graham, who said that Mr Pryde was looked upon as an authority by every player from the North Cape to the Bluff. Being known throughout New Zealand as one of the originators of the first Club, and being recognised as one of the fathers of Golf in this country, it was only right and fitting that the importance of having such a member attached to the Feilding Golf Club should be recognised.

Mr Carthew voiced similar sentiments of Mr Pryde's capabilities in the knowledge of the game.

Replying, Mr Pryde said he was greatly honoured. He remembered the formation of the first Club in New Zealand, at Dunedin in 1865 by Mr Chas. Houden, who was still living there. That Club later went out of existence, but shortly after, he assisted Mr Houden, a brother of the first originator, to start a club in Wellington, and later other centres followed suit."

Footnote: Mr David Pryde was the father of golf in Feilding. He won the NZ Amateur Golf Championship at Auckland in 1897. Mr Pryde died at Feilding in 1933."

18th Green

Higgins continue to build up the supply of soil for the renovation. The Club is very appreciative and our thanks to Higgins for the deliveries and donation of fill .

The Board is pleased to announce that a grant application to the Eastern & Central Community Trust has been successful. Information regarding this renovation has been posted on the Website (Course Project – under Latest Newsfeeds at the very bottom of the HOME page), and is available to read at the Bar.

Lockers

Ian Whitehead has sourced a “Jumbo Locker” 450mm x 550mm x 1980mm (current measurements are 300mm x 420mm). The House Committee is happy for some of the old lockers to be replaced but require funding to purchase the new lockers. One option is that members who are interested can purchase a locker which remains their own whilst a member of the Club.

Individual standing Lockers are around $500 each and back-to-back are around $400 each. Final pricing will be quoted on order. Please contact Ann if you are interested in purchasing a larger locker. The more we can order, hopefully the less the cost.
